

A Remedy for the Consumed.
Wretched men and women long condemned to suffer the tortures of dyspepsia, are filled with new hope after a few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This budding hope blossoms into the fruition of certainty, if the Bitters is persisted in. It brings a relief to all dyspepsias who seek its aid. Flatulence, heartburn, sinking at the pit of the stomach, between meals, the nervous tremors and insomnia of which chronic indigestion is the parent, disappear with the helpful properties of the Bitters. Most beneficent of stomachics! who can wonder that in so many instances it awakens grateful eloquence in those who, benefited by it, speak voluntarily in its behalf. It requires a graphic pen to describe the tortures of dyspepsia, but in many of the testimonials received by the proprietors of the Bitters, these are portrayed with vivid truthfulness. Constipation, biliousness, muscular debility, malarial fevers and rheumatism are relieved by it.

Brace Up.
You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are drowsy, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of liver and kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at Hodgkinson & Co.'s drug store.

Not a California Bear.
Anybody can catch a cold this kind of weather. The trouble is to let go, like the man who caught the bear. We advise our readers to purchase of Osburn & Shoemaker a bottle of Santa Able, the California King of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough and Croup cures, and keep it handy. 'Tis pleasant to the taste and death to the above complaints. Sold at $1 a bottle or three for $2.50. California Cat-R-Cure gives immediate relief. The Catarrhal virus is so n. displaced by its healing and penetrating nature. Give it a trial. Six months treatment $1, sent by mail $1.50.

Their Business Booming.
Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Hodgkinson & Co.'s drug store as their giving away to their customers so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Cured of Neuritis.
EAST VIEW, WASHINGTON CO., N. Y., January 23, 1888.
I have been a great sufferer with pains in the back of my head, worse than any headache I could not reach it with internal medicines at all, and during the cold weather I have suffered excruciatingly. I finally thought I would try an Acker's Baby Soother, and to the surprise of my friends, in less than half a day the pain entirely ceased.

Give Them a Chance!
That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the largest passages, but the most delicate of little tubes and cavities leading from them. When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all the while, it is only a matter of time before you are no more. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural ease from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by
W. PINNIGER, Druggist.

Many Of the good things of this life are sorrowful. Let alone on account of Dyspepsia, Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Constipation; sold on a positive guarantee at 25 and 50 cents, by

Driving the Jack Rabbits.
Rural Press.]
The Bakersfield people celebrated New Year's Monday with their initial round-up of the rabbits, at Henry Borgwardt's ranch, four miles from town, westward. There was a circular corral at the corner of his alfalfa field where the sagebrush and pasture lie side by side. From this inclosure two wings of lath fence were stretched at right angles for a few hundred yards.

By 2 o'clock in the afternoon a large number of people had gathered, some on horseback, others in light vehicles. They had a commanding officer and a few field managers. No dogs were allowed upon the ground, and but a few guns in the hands of experienced sportsmen. The crowd having been so distributed and marshaled as to form a curving line about a mile in length, a signal to move forward was given and the drive toward the corral commenced. The area inclosed by the drivers must have been less than a square mile, but the Echo says that "as they drew near the apex of the triangle it seemed as if there were acres of rabbits. Of course a great many ran back past the people, and several hundred were killed with sticks while doing so, their fright being so great that they would run within a few feet of one's conveyance. When the corral gate was shut it was found that the drive had been a grand success. By actual count after they were killed, there were 1126 rabbits in the pen. Another march was ordered, and by passing over the same territory 796 rabbits were corralled and killed, besides a large number that fell by the way. It was generally believed that 2,500 was a safe estimate of the total number killed in the two drives."

Of course no firearms whatever can be used inside the corral; only clubs are permissible. Another observer writes: "It looked like every cruel sport, but their destruction is an inexorable necessity. Relentless war must be waged against them or they will take entire possession of the country." The farmers of the neighborhood appear to have been pushing the campaign farther, for a dispatch from Bakersfield, on the 10th inst., reports that 5,075 of the nimble nuisances are shown by actual count to have been destroyed. This beats the Tulare county record.

This method of dealing with the destructive rodents bids fair to become quite general, where they abound and the lay of the land favors; and as our "rabbits" are all hares, which know not the trick of escaping into burrows, the results of the process are comparatively certain.

A Remarkable Flock of Sheep.
Mr. L. I. Jenkins, writing from Dresden, Germany, has this to say of a remarkable flock of sheep: "Perhaps the most remarkable flock of Merino sheep in the world is to be found at Leutewitz, near Meissen, Germany. Here have been bred for four generations of men the descendants of the famous importations of Spanish Merinos to Saxony in 1765 and 1778. Like all other true Merinos, these were in the beginning small and hardy animals, yielding a small quantity of wool, but having no great value as mutton. Now they average in weight: Rams 220 to 265 pounds, and ewes 145 to 275 pounds; and the unwashed wool—from rams, 17 to 23 pounds, and from ewes, 13 to 15 pounds. In the mutton, the fat is well mingled with the muscle and not accumulated in inedible masses, and its quality is now regarded as approaching the South-down. The unsurpassed fineness of the Saxon fleece is recognized everywhere."

RIO BONITO COLONY!

LANDS FAMED FOR RICHNESS

Along the Feather River.

GROVES OF MAMMOTH OAKS OF SURPASSING BEAUTY.

Best of Soils for Oranges, Lemons, Figs, Peaches, Cherries, and all Tropical and other Fruits.

RIO BONITO COLONY LANDS ARE LOCATED IN BUTTE COUNTY, California, and along the prettiest part of Feather River. They are about eight miles south of Oroville, three miles from Gridley, and two miles from Biggs, on the Oregon and California Railroad, and seventy-three miles from Sacramento. There are growing on the lands white oak trees, some of which are thirty-five feet in circumference. The soil is a rich, sandy loam, and cannot be surpassed in productiveness. Citrus and all kinds of deciduous fruits ripen here to perfection. Rio Bonito Colony Lands are a garden spot, and are certain to be the most popular for homes of any to be found in Central California.

Testimonials on the Land by Leading Butte County Citizens and others.

I have been over your tract of land on the Feather River a hundred times. There is no better land, no better place for a colony in the world.
JOHN S. GRAY,
Real Estate Agent, Reno, Nev.

As good land as there is in Butte County.
JOHN BEALL, Biggs.

As fine a piece of land as there is in this country. First-class for cereals and fruits.
L. D. FREER,
Judge Superior Court, Oroville.

Have lived on this land for nearly twenty years. No more healthy climate in the world.
M. BIGGS, JR. Biggs.

It will produce, without irrigation, any of the fruits grown in any part of the State of California.
—Riggs Argus.

No richer land can be found in all California.—Oroville Register.

As fertile and valuable tract of land as there is in Butte County. Just the kind of land for fruit culture; there is none better.
JACOB KRUSICK, Gridley.

It is all splendid fruit land without irrigation.
WM. SHARKEY, Biggs.

I regard your tract as the best body of land in California. GEO. W. CHAMBERLAIN, Battle Mountain, Nev.

One of the finest bodies of land in the world; there is no bottom to the soil, and every inch of it is rich.
—Oroville Mercury.

A body of land as valuable and well adapted for all purposes of agriculture, especially fruit raising, as any land known to me.
G. K. SMITH, Banker, Biggs.

My orchard is 27 years old, and adjoining your land which is exactly the same as mine. The net average yield per acre, without irrigation, has been not less than $200 per annum. I have not lost a fruit crop in 27 years from frost, or any other cause.
D. STREETER, Biggs.

I know the great capabilities of your place as a fruit ranch. In five years after planting, that land in olives would yield fully $200 per acre in oil, and will increase year after year until its annual yield will exceed $500.
JOHN C. GRAY, Dist. Att'y.

This section of Butte County is one of the best in California for fruit culture. Such land as this, if set out to fruits, would, at the end of three years, be estimated, be worth at least $500 per acre. At this rate, twenty acres in fruit within three years would be worth $10,000. The managers will take charge of the setting out of fruit trees for purchasers of land, and at the actual cost of doing the same.

The land is now for sale in tracts to suit at $100 per acre, on easy terms—one-third cash; balance in one, two and three years at eight per cent. per annum.

Buy ticket to Biggs. Fare from San Francisco, $5.20; from Sacramento, $2.20. Stages from Oroville to Biggs pass the land daily. Send for circulars.

FRIDAY.....JANUARY 20, 1888

THE recent severe weather has not only been keenly felt by the white inhabitants of the State, but the Indians have had their share of suffering. Those of them who live in and around the towns have not suffered much for food and shelter, but the Indian whose home is away from the trade centers has not had food enough to more than sustain life. This is particularly the case with the Indians in the extreme northern part of the State, where the settlements are few and far between and the population sparse. At Fort McDermitt the Indians every day, for the past three weeks, have been asking the military authorities for enough flour and meat to keep them from starving. The Government has not made provision for feeding only so many men at the fort, and there is not enough food to divide with the red man unless the white soldier is placed upon half rations. Of course there are thousands of cattle belonging to the settlers around there, but the Indian must not kill any of them, even to save life. If they do the white owner will kill the Indian and possibly inaugurate an Indian war. Nearly all of our Indian wars on this coast were precipitated by the Indians first killing stock, either for revenge or for food, and principally the latter. With all his aboriginal knowledge of the seasons the Indian does not know much more about the kind of a winter it is likely to be than does his white brother, who foretells the amount of snow and ice by observing the woodpecker and chipmunk gathering their store in the early fall. Hence it often happens that the Indian is as poorly provided for a long and severe winter as the white man who was sure of an open and mild one. And then again the Indian very often trusts to luck to help him through, and consequently is often on the verge of starvation long before spring. But no matter what the causes are at the present season, there are many Indians in Northern Humboldt and Elko counties suffering for enough food to exist on, and there seems to be no way to give them immediate help, unless the few settlers there give them cattle to kill and eat. If military red tape was not so cumbersome assistance might be rendered by the military authorities at Fort McDermitt giving vouchers to the ranchers for cattle furnished the Indians, and then let the rancher take his chance of the General Government, or War Department, or Indian Department reimbursing him.

THE Salt Lake Tribune, in an editorial discussing the railroad question, says:
 "If Congress continues to manifest such a spirit toward the Pacific railroads as is shadowed forth in the bill of Congressman Outwater, a synopsis of which was wired yesterday, the chances are that the Government after awhile will find itself in the possession of a long line of worn-out railroad which will be paralleled on better grades, and will lose the debt which the roads now owe the Government. The sensible plan would be to frame a bill which would place the whole indebtedness against the roads in three per cent bonds, which would call for nothing but interest during the next ten years, but which would make the payment of the interest imperative, by giving the Government authority to take possession of the roads instantly in case of default, and have the sinking fund begin after ten years. This would give the roads a chance to perfect their lines and to guarantee, at least in a measure, against parallel lines. But a bill which offensively assumes virtually in every section that the companies are composed of thieves and must be dealt with under that idea will result in a failure. It is idle to say that the companies when they had a monopoly of the overland business made money enough to pay their debts, because (1) the debts were not then due, and (2) if the companies have made this money, they are not going to pay it out on roads which can now be paralleled with new and superior material for one-third the amount of the indebtedness which is a lien against the old roads. The trouble is not in the present at all; it is in the original contract. It is not much of a trick for any gentleman of means to cross the Atlantic, but that does not reduce in the least the exploit of Columbus in making the first voyage. A road from the Missouri to Sacramento has not the same look at all that the project of building it had in 1882. The intention of Congress at that time was what should govern in the settlement of the question now, and Congressmen should read the old files of the daily press, to try to arrive at the full intent of Congress and the wishes of the people East and West at that time. Then the final proposition should be a business one, and the question should be how, after all the mistakes of the past, the business can be arranged in such a way that eventually the Government will secure the payment of its claims. If a man owed a firm $3,000 and all his property would not bring $1,000, and a prior mortgage was on that $1,000, a compromise spirit would be the only one through which payment would ever be secured, and this is a parallel case.

THE admission of Utah as a State is a political problem which both of the dominant parties in Congress feel like handling with kid gloves. The prohibition of polygamy, which is a clause in the new State Constitution, is looked upon by the Gentile population of the Territory as a blind, and does not mean what it says. In other words, that when the Territory is admitted and is a full-fledged State, the polygamists, who are largely in the majority, will construe the laws and govern the new State in the interest of polygamy. All the religious people of America are opposed to the admission of Utah if polygamy will be fostered under State laws; and this opposition is irrespective of party affiliations. Neither political party is desirous of having in opposition to it this element in the politics of the nation, and therefore, each is very careful of the moves they make touching this very troublesome question.

IN the Democratic State Central Committee of Pennsylvania yesterday Randall's candidate for Chairman was defeated and resolutions were adopted indorsing the tariff reduction views of the Administration. If Randall would take a hint he would leave a party with which he has no economical affiliations and come into the Republican ranks under the banner of Protection.

THE PACIFIC ROADS.

Accountant Stevens Suggests a Plan of Settlement.
 NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Richard F. Stevens, chief accountant of the recent Pacific Railway Commission, has written to United States Senator Rufus Blodgett, of New Jersey, in response to a request, his views on a seeming equitable basis of settlement of the claims of the United States against the Central Pacific road. Stevens takes ground in favor of a settlement in line with the majority report of the commission to Congress, pointing out that an attempt of the Government to wrest the control from the present owners would meet with serious resistance in the courts. Stevens summarizes his plan of settlement as follows:
 First—To create a sinking fund, with two trustees, one appointed by the President and one by the railroad company.
 Second—Let that fund embrace all moneys now in the hands of the United States, for the future payment of interest, together with a semi-annual sum of $55,070 49, being the interest on outstanding United States loans.
 Third—Extending the power of the railroad company.
 Fourth—Keeping inviolate the present profit and loss account as a reserve fund.

A Murderer's Horrible Confession.
 Boston, Jan. 20.—James E. Newlin was hanged at Cambridge jail this morning at 9:23 o'clock, for the murder of George A. Codman, his employer, January 4, 1887. The details of the murder, which was committed for money and for which young Newlin was executed, mark it as one of the most horrible in the history of New England. Newlin, who was only 17, was employed by Codman to deliver milk. According to Newlin's confession he went to the barn and waited for Codman early in the morning, and when he appeared, he struck him in the neck with a knife, killing him instantly. He afterwards cut up the body so he could carry it, and putting the parts in an old milk wagon, drove about 15 miles away and threw the out-comes where they were found by a farmer.

CARLISLE'S SEAT.

Views of the Minority of the Election Committee.
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The views of the minority of the Election Committee on the Thoebe-Carlisle contested election case was presented to the House this morning. The report says that had the case been submitted to the Committee on the record as made at the beginning of the present session of Congress, there would not have been probably a dissenting vote; that the vote would have been unanimous for the resolution adopted by the majority, but at the first meeting of the Committee the contestant made a strong ex parte showing, and it believes that a reasonable showing having been made by the contestant, he should, in all justice and fair-dealing, be allowed to establish by legal and competent evidence, if he can, the allegations of fraud made.

The minority do not see why, if the charges be true, the contestant should so persistently oppose an investigation, and his opposition is to their minds so strongly corroborative of the claim made by the contestant as to restrain them from supporting the majority resolution without an inquiry. Precedents are quoted in support of the course recommended by the minority. In view of all the facts the minority feels obliged in what it believes to be the interests of exact and equal justice, to withhold its consent to the majority report.

Rowell, in a supplementary report, states that he concurs in the majority Committee report, only dissenting from deciding disputed questions of fact upon ex parte testimony.

A Train Robbery Frustrated.
 St. Louis, Jan. 19.—An attempt was made upon the Wabash train last night by robbers near Missouri City. The train was flagged, and the engineer ordered out of his cab. Officials had information of the attempt, and a volley from shotguns met the robbers, the leader of whom was shot down. The county officials are now in pursuit, and some of the robbers have been captured.

The officials had been warned of the impending attack and had an armed posse on the train. At 9:30 P. M., as Cooley lake, one of the loneliest spots on the road, was approached, a red light was seen gleaming ahead. As the train slowed up the engineer saw three masked men, armed with rifles, standing on the track. "Get off there," said the leader of the three men. The engineer complied, and just as he reached the ground an officer in the cab fired a shot from the cab, which was answered by shots from the three robbers, which rattled around the engine, but did no harm. The three men then retired, and as they moved back part of the posse came up from the woods, where they had been in concealment, and opened fire on the robbers. About twenty shots were exchanged. The posse continued the pursuit, and it is reported that one of the robbers has been killed and one captured. The robbers are known to be farmers, living in the neighborhood of Missouri City, and one of them is said to have been a member of the James gang.

Dr. Norvin Green Objects.
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Senator Sawyer, Chairman of the Postoffice Committee, called his committee to order at 11 o'clock this morning and Dr. Norvin Green, President of the Western Union Telegraph Company, addressed the committee in opposition to the Government telegraph bill. He devoted himself first, though briefly, to the constitutional questions to which the measure gives rise. He quoted a decision of the Supreme Court, in effect that the telegraph business is in itself commerce. He touched upon this constitutional power, he said, merely because he didn't wish the committee to understand that the company waived it. He claimed that no people on earth enjoyed as perfect a system of telegraph as America. "I am told," the doctor continued, "that a petition bearing 500,000 signatures is to be sent to this committee in favor of a government system. They will come by command of a man with whom Powderly had a quarrel and not 100 men who will sign have ever seen a telegraph message."

Don Carlos Ready to Fight.
 LONDON, January 20.—In an interview at Venice Don Carlos declared that Spain must become one of the great European powers; that her navy must be immediately strengthened and that an obligatory military service was essential. The present monarchy he said was unfitted to carry on the work before it, and unless it was replaced by a republic would soon come. The Spanish future lay in Morocco and South America. Don Carlos expressed his readiness to fight in the Spanish ranks the moment he was called.

Free Raw Wool Recommended.
 WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 20.—The Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee have just concluded a series of seven conferences with Eastern woolen manufacturers. An agreement has been reached whereby the manufacturers recommend free raw wool to Congress, and in turn the committee promise that the duties on manufactured goods shall not be disturbed. This is the kind of clapping with which the Democratic freetraders hope to gull Congress.

A Member of Parliament Arrested.
 DUBLIN, Jan. 20.—Blane, member of Parliament for South Armagh, was arrested at Armagh, at the same time Father McFadden was taken in custody. He was committed for trial on a charge of making a speech inciting tenants to resist authority.

O'Brien Released.
 DUBLIN, Jan. 20.—Wm. O'Brien, editor of the United Ireland, who has been confined in prison since October 31st, was released from Tullamore jail to-day. He proceeded to a priest's house in Tullamore, followed by a large crowd.

San Francisco Post: The railroad people do not regard President Cleveland's report with much veneration; the majority of them think that the Government might wipe out the debt because it had received $3 benefit for every dollar it had loaned.

There is little further to state concerning the cold snap save that the weather shows signs of moderating. The Union Pacific has lent the Central Pacific six large ten-wheel engines to assist in relieving the blockade on that line. The company has also other engines on the way from the East.

Carson Tribune: "The morning salutation now is not 'how is your health?' but 'how's your water?'" and at few houses can a very pleasant answer be obtained, for surely nothing will make a housekeeper feel or look more sour than the thought of that very necessary fluid, but in a day or two at most all will be serene."

Chief Engineer McFarlin attached the fire engine to the fire cistern at the corner of Virginia street and Commercial Row to-day morning, but was unable to procure water, what there was in the cistern being solidified. Connection was then made with the cistern at Depot park, and a supply was pumped from there to the one first mentioned.

In an attempt this morning to throw out a water pipe in the cellar of Powning's new building on Virginia street, an empty barrel caught fire, the smoke from which was so dense as to lead to the belief that the whole cellar was on fire. GRASS GROWING IN NEVADA.

An interesting talk with Dr. George Vasey, Botanist of the Agricultural Department.

Regular Correspondence GAZETTE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 12, 1888.

EDITOR GAZETTE.—I was over at the Agricultural Department yesterday and had a pleasant talk with Dr. George Vasey, Botanist of the Department, concerning grasses and forage plants of the arid districts of the West. The subject is one that interests him greatly, but he says that, considering the anxiety of the people of not only the West, but the South, where long droughts are frequent during the summer, Congress has been too sparing in its appropriations to allow the experiments that should be made by the Government.

"Having given the subject considerable thought and study, what do you believe ought to be done in the matter in behalf of the sections most interested?" I asked the doctor.

"Let every State in the West and in the South have its experimental gardens. The matter is of such vital importance to you people of the arid West that I am surprised you have not awakened to greater activity. The soil in great stretches of Nevada is fertile, and I certainly believe grasses could be made to grow on them without artificial irrigation."

"What grasses would you recommend?"

"Well, I should suggest, in the way of perennials, alfalfa and the phalaris arundinacea, that grows spontaneously in your State near Fallsdale."

"Can the Government supply seed of these grasses?"

"No; that's just where the trouble comes in. The appropriations allowed us will not permit us to go gather these seeds. You folks could gather seed of these grasses at little expense. Alfalfa, I believe, grows quite plentifully in parts of California."

"What other grasses or forage plants would you recommend?"

"About the only other ones I can think of just now are annuals. There is the Abyssinian grass that has succeeded admirably in the south during the past two years with little moisture. Kaffir corn, something like sorghum, ought to do well in those parts of your State where the frosts will not catch it in the spring or early in the fall. It has a large compound leaf and makes splendid feed. I think T. W. Wood & Sons, Richmond, Va., could supply seed for it. The panicle Texanum has succeeded well in Texas, but it wants moisture. It produces four or five tons to the acre. You folks have a lot of fine native grasses in and around Reno that ought to pay any one to gather the seed of. By the way, what have you done towards establishing an experimental station in connection with your State University, so as to make available the $15,000 appropriated by Congress?"

"Well, the entire matter remained dormant until recently, when Senator Stewart took hold of it. I can say with certainty that the station will be a reality in a short time."

"That's good. I am glad to know that Senator Stewart is interested in these matters. We are always glad to find such men in either of the Houses of Congress. You say you must be going, well, come and see me any time, and it will always give me pleasure in saying I can for you folks in Nevada."

A WOULD-BE VETERAN.

How G. W. Hazzard Victimized the Philanthropist.

Some weeks ago a lean, lanky individual called at the GAZETTE office, and in a business-like way, stated that his name was G. W. Hazzard, an ex-journalist, a veteran of the civil war and was in need of assistance. He, however, stated that he did not wish his brethren of the quill to relieve his wants in a metallic way, and would be content with information concerning Virginia City. It was given him, and he departed from the office with the grace of a Cheesecake. Several days later an item appeared in one of the Virginia papers, which stated that the Board of Commissioners of Storey county had, on recommendation of Colonel Lord, a member of the G. A. R., appropriated $40 for the relief of Hazzard, who was desirous of reaching the Veterans' Home at Leavenworth, Kansas. A number of veterans there also responded to his appeal for aid, and when he left the Comstock, his wallet was well filled. He then proceeded to Carson, where he imposed upon the Government and State officials to the extent of it, it stated, several hundred dollars. Carson worded dry, he returned to Reno, registered at the Depot hotel, this time as a man of means, not as a mendicant, and the next morning started West. Now comes a press dispatch, which explains itself.

MARYSVILLE Jan. 18.—George W. Hazzard, representing himself to be a soldier in the civil war and claiming to be crippled, has been imposing on the people and Grand Army men here for the past week. He represents that he is desirous of going to the Soldiers' Home in Kansas. After securing credentials from Corinth Post officers he canvassed Yuba City, but was "tipped" today on a telegram from Comstock, Salomon, saying that he was an impostor.

Heart Disease I.

Read the hospital reports, read the mortuary reports, read the medical publications, read the daily newspapers and learn how wide-spread is heart disease, how difficult of detection it is to most people, how many and how sudden are the deaths it causes. Then read Dr. Flint's Treatise on Heart Disease, and learn what it is, what causes it, what diseases it gives rise to, what its symptoms are, and how it may be attacked. If you find that you have heart disease, ask your druggist for a bottle of Dr. Flint's Heart Remedy. The treatise may be had on application to J. J. MACK & CO., Nos. 9 and 11 Front street, S. F.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Thrilling Experience of Train Hands on a Runaway Freight.

The Ogden Standard has a sensational story about a thrilling and narrow escape from a fearful railroad accident at the foot of Castle Rock grade, Saturday. The California fast freight westbound had reached the steeper part of the grade when the brakes refused to work and an icy rail made matters worse. The engineer reversed his engine with a full head of steam on, but it was no use. Conductor Callinan with brakeman McIntee and Johnson hurried out on top of the cars to find a brake somewhere that would work but failed, and the train gathered a momentum that became shortly 50 miles an hour. The mercury was 40 degrees below zero and the hurricane made it impossible for the men to remain on the car roofs, so they dropped down the ladders between the cars as the terrible cold blasts chilled them to the bone. The engineer in despair grasped his whistle lever and during the run held it open, the engine pealing as it were a long wail of distress. At the bottom of the hill was a special passenger with the No. 2 east-bound express behind it. They were waiting for orders and anxious of what was coming. But one of the station men hearing the whistle and suspecting a runaway, turned the switch just in time to let the freight out on the long siding. The rails there being rough the engine drivers, which had been revolving backward all the time, got in their work with the few brakes that now took hold, and the runaway was stopped before any damage was done. The poor train men on reaching Ogden were found to have their ears, fingers and toes frozen, and it was not known yesterday whether Dr. Perkins would be able to save them from amputation. But for the turning of the switch another horrible railroad slaughter would have been reported.

Utah Stock Matters.

A prominent stock man, says the Salt Lake Tribune, has received recent advices from a large portion of Utah relative to stock. The southeastern portion of the Territory is all right, not being so cold, but little snow and an abundance of feed for the number of animals on the range. In the north end of Skull Valley sheep are doing well, but south of there they are dying fast. From Corinne westward the loss of cattle and horses will be very large. The railway has much trouble in getting the weak animals off the track about Kelton, where cattle are suffering severely. This stockman, in speaking of the heavy loss there is sure to be remarked that it would no doubt result in good in the end, as it would force stock raisers to prepare for winter feeding and sheltering and do away with the large herds. It will not be known what the stock losses are until spring. It is hoped and believed that the worst has passed.

The Gymnasium Meeting.

The gymnasium meeting held last night was larger and more enthusiastic than its fondlest promoters could hope for, there being about fifty of Reno's young men already taking an active part in the organization. C. K. Garcia was elected temporary Chairman, L. E. Lee temporary Secretary, and various committees were appointed to draft by-laws, look after halls, apparatus, etc. The meeting adjourned to meet again this evening at the depot to hear the reports of the committees and take such action as they deem necessary.

Country and City Properties in

For Sale.

$30,000. Mrs. Howard offers her ranch for sale. The ranch is on the Virginia road, the most beautiful of all the country roads in Nevada. It is located eight miles from Reno and in a fertile agricultural section. The ranch consists of about 50 acres and a valuable water right. The ranch has long had the reputation of being one of the most productive of its size of all the ranches in the Truckee Meadows. This year it has produced 80 tons of hay, pasture for 20 head of stock, vegetables and other products to the value of $5,000. By the expenditure of a few hundred dollars the ranch could be made to be even much more productive than it is at present. The soil is admirably adapted to the raising of alfalfa, stock and vegetables. It has an excellent house, barn and other buildings, a good orchard and other improvements. For sale at $30,000; 1/2 cash and the remainder in five equal annual installments. Interest at 8 per cent. per annum.

$13,650. A Santa's ranch located about five miles south-east from Reno is offered for sale. It consists of 45 acres, with water right, and is for sale at $13,650 and on easy terms of payment. There is on the place a good house of eight rooms, a bath, and other buildings. The place has plenty of fine irrigating water and as many as fifty springs of excellent drinking water. The ranch yielded this year 350 tons of hay, and pasture valued at not less than $1,200. The total valuation of this year's yield is not less than $5,000, and some one year's yield has amounted to as much as $5,000. As the ranch consists chiefly of pasture and meadow land, the expense of running the place is exceedingly small. The ranch is especially desirable as a stock range and for this purpose would yield a handsome profit on the amount invested.

FOR SALE—Lots 10, 11, and 12, in Block 4, Marsh's Addition, south side of river, very desirable location. House of two rooms (hard finished) and shed; lots cleared; size, each 50 by 140. A bargain.

Humors of the Day.
Ouida says: "A girl's love must never be begged, but conquered. As bold as as it may seem, the girl cannot be conquered unless she conquers."

"Have a piece of lemon pie, Mr. Caution?" asked the wife of his bosom last night at supper. "No, dear," said he, "I would rather go by some other route."

Elopes are very romantic, but there would not be so many of them if young men could see the girls they were going to fly with trying to make a breakfast pudding. Love flies before helpless inability.

A Parisian doctor prescribed for a lady who had objections against growing stout: "Take exercise, my dear lady. Consider the trees of the field; they never take exercise, and as a consequence, they go on growing bigger and bigger every year."

A young lady whose very best young man lived over the way with his parents took a seat by the window one cloudy morning. "Why do you sit by the window such a chilly morning?" asked her mother. "Oh, I'm waiting for the son to come out ma," she replied.

Miss Emily Faithful is lecturing in Edinburgh on Mormonism and Miss Kate Field is lecturing in this country on the same subject. Both these ladies, judging from their prolonged and persistent state of single blessedness, are adverse to a man having a wife at all.

GASH IN NATURE'S FACE.

Black Canyon in the Summit of the Big Horn Mountains.

Black Canyon is cleft in the very summit of the Big Horn mountains and yawns for a somewhat tortuous length of thirty miles, stretching from its junction with the canyon, through which the waters of the Big Horn river force their way southeastward into Wyoming and almost to the boundaries of the National Park, writes a correspondent of the St. Paul "Pioneer Press." It has never been thoroughly explored, but, at the southern extremity, maintains a fairly uniform depth of two thousand feet. No westerner well known, mountains in these parts are treeless, and reach to the snow line or beyond in gradual and rounded slopes. There is not the slightest indication of the Black Canyon until one reaches its very verge, and the effect of the contrast between its densely wooded sides, where "the tall pines, like funeral plumes," wave to and fro and sing ceaselessly, and the treeless acclivities behind, is as unique as can be imagined. Well is it named "Black" for these same pines, massed as they are with naught but the denser foliage displayed give an air of Erebus itself to the whole huge fissure. Bringing into more marked effect the somberness of the greater portion of the canyon are huge white cliffs, perfectly perpendicular, and with their sheer height of more than a third of a mile towering into impressiveness which compels silence on the part of the looker-on, he garrulous as Falstaff or querulous as Haman.

He would be a queer American who, looking down into the chasm, did not feel an immediate and irresistible desire to penetrate the depths and look up. To accomplish this is arduous, but neither difficult nor dangerous. Two or three miles south of the debouching of the Big Horn canyon a bridge leads to the bottom of the Black. It is partly the bed of a stream which depends upon the rainy season for its flow and partly a track made by bears, elk, or deer, terraced as it were in the very side of the steepness. From the entrance to the deep wood to the bottom plateau is about a mile and three-quarters by this path and over all but a half mile it is possible to ride. Steep as the side of a house in almost every part, but winding sufficiently to allow the line of direction to be maintained within one's base, a careful horse can make good progress till more than half way down. Then must his rider dismount, for what was steep becomes precipitous now, and the footway instead of being hard and even is covered with sand, earth, loose stones and other detritus from the towering sides above. Both horse and rider must slide; and, as in the middle of the steepest part the path bends round a large rock, at an acute angle while to the right yawns a precipice hundreds of feet in depth, one has the elation which comes of semi-danger after he has passed this evil half-mile of descent with the complacency of him who has encountered and overcome obstacles. Yet it isn't really very dangerous, since the loose earth helps to hold one back, and a number of army ladies have made the descent in perfect safety, but with more or less damage to habiliments.

Once landed on the perfectly level surface at the bottom of the big canyon the explorer finds that the sides do not meet, as they seem to do when looked at from above, but are separated from a few hundred feet to a quarter of a mile. The huge bare walls of rock are even more impressive when seen from below, and seem like the battlements of some huge castle erected by Titans, and worthy of defense by the Olympian gods. Shut out from world and singing its merry, dashing song through the center of the lower level, runs Canyon creek, here deep and narrow, there wide and wadeable, and always as cold as ice and as clear as crystal. Why not? It is fed by snow and ice, and on its waves the sun can pour its beams but four or five hours out of every twenty-four. And in that creek, what trout! Lovely salmon-colored fellows; the mountain trout of Montana and Idaho; gamey as the oldest and bravest of their Allegheny brethren; delicious to the palate as a Ward could desire, and suitable in that may attain the noble size of three or four-pounders, and few which the angler cares to save weigh less than a pound. They will bite at anything from a piece of red flannel coating to a grasshopper, and to see one snatch at bait in the midst of a headlong rush up stream, and then to feel the thrill in wrist and shoulder as he resents the barb, is to "have fun" in as true and full a sense as the heart of a fisherman ever imagined.

SKIN DISEASES

Our oldest child, now six years of age, was an infant six months old was attacked with a violent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid mass of painful, bloated, and malignant. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally we were advised to try the CUTICURA Remedy.

The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to day he is a strong, healthy child, properly well in the enjoyment of his life, and free from all skin diseases having ever occurred.
